JUNE M. TAYLOR

June M. Taylor is Director, Simulator Systems Group, Agile Combat Support Systems Wing, Aeronautical Systems Center, Air Force Materiel Command, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. She directs 500 employees at three geographically-separated locations in research, acquisition and sustainment for more than 50 USAF and 10 foreign Air Force aircraft training systems, and leads multi-command, industry teams in creating the acquisition strategy for distributed mission operations.

Ms. Taylor began her civil service career at Duluth International Airport, Minn., in 1972. After serving in the administrative career field, she cross-trained into logistics in 1979. Since cross-training, she has applied her program management and logistics knowledge in acquisition, support and operational organizations. She became a certified professional logistician in 1989. Ms. Taylor is a certified acquisition professional in program management and acquisition logistics. She was designated a Hammer Process Master in 2002, and is a 2004 graduate of the Defense Leadership and Management Program.
